GHOSTS THAT WILL NOT DOWN AT BIDDING.

SCENE—Bondholder's parlor.

DRAMATIS PERSONÆ—A gouty Bondholder in his easy chair, sitting by a table, drinking wine.

ENTER—A ragged man with bare feet and tattered garments, preceeded by a little boy and girl.

Poor man—Good afternoon, Mr. Bondholder. I have brought you a present.—Here are two little children, your slaves for life. I give them to you, if you please, for no fault of theirs, except that they are white! But, sir, I could not help it—their father and mother, both dead, were white. These are my innocent little grandchildren—all you and your party have left me—and the bonds you hold are mortgages on them, as upon myself. I cannot pay the debt—take the little ones.

Bondholder—Be off—get out—take the dirty brats away from me!

Poor man—Please, sir, don't speak so harshly. It frightens the little girl. The boy does not seem to start much at your angry tones, else he would not double up his fists, but the girl is timid.

Bondholder—Get out—be off with your brats, or I'll ring the bell for a servant to put you out, you impertinent scoundrel!

Poor man—You needn't ring, Mr. Bondholder. The day of ringing little bells has passed away. And you need not ring for a servant, for I am your servant. I will stand here a moment before I go, and have a little talk with you, and you will listen. And you will not speak cross or interrupt me.

Once, when you were afraid of the draft, you wore the kindliest smile. And you patted me on the back and said I was a dear, good, patriotic man. I listened to you then, and, by the Eternal, you shall listen to me now.

Do you remember those days? There was a war. You, with your oily tongue, helped bring it about. It was more of a war than you thought it would be. You were a coward, a great big coward. Don't look ugly, for I don't scare worth a cent! And you were afraid to go to war. You made long speeches about saving the Union, protecting the Constitution, honoring the laws, and helping the poor man.

You said the war was to restore the country to peace and prosperity.

You said the object of the war was not to coerce States, nor to deprive the people of liberty.

You said those who would not fight were cowards. I was no coward, Mr. Bondholder, so I went to war. You were a coward—you dared not go, so you hired me to go. I took your money and went. And, now, when I have returned, I find that I owe you more than you gave me, and that I must now work to pay myself for being shot at, and to pay you big interest on the money you let me have.

And I find that you are exempt from taxation, that you hold the wealth of the nation in your pockets, and that I am your slave.

In short, Mr. Bondholder, you are a coward, a cheat, a swindler, a tyrant, a robber, a great bloated aristocrat. When the war came on I was a poor but honest man. I knew but little of your tricks and financial plans. I had a wife and I loved her very dearly. She wore no silks, for I could not buy them. We had no grand home as you now have. We drank milk—you drink wine and I pay for it. Our home was a poor man's home, but was a very happy one. Do you know, Mr. Bondholder, how you whined and begged of me to go to war? You said the country was in danger. You promised to care for my family, and to look out for my interests, if I would go and fight for you. You promised well, you did, and you lied to me all the while. While I was fighting you were speculating. I bade my wife good bye, and went to war. My son went to war.

You made war speeches. You promised great things to the soldiers. You lied to them, you did, and you know it! Don't look mad—I am not afraid of cowards—don't scare worth a d—ime!

I was wounded in battle and half starved in the hospital. My son was killed by the Confederates while on a cotton expedition to enrich your loyal cousin in the army as General. I had a hard time of it and at last came home.

My wife died from neglect. You never cared for her. My son was killed by the Confederates while helping on the crusade after cotton and negroes. I came home to find you rich and me poor. My farm was covered with weeds and mortgages. My wife lies in the churchyard for your benefit. My boy sleeps by a cotton field for his General's benefit.

These are his children. They are not left to me—they are left to you. You stole my son. You lied to me. You starved my wife and my son's wife.

You and your party lied to all the soldiers—you robbed them in the field—you sacrificed them for private ends—you gave away our blood to protect your dollars.

While we fought to save the country, you said that a national debt was a national blessing, and you made the blessing great; but a blessing only to yourselves and the other cowardly thieves and aristocrats of the country.

The soldiers should have been exempt, but they are not. Only the aristocrats are exempt, and able to live at ease.

Take the little children. I have no home. Your mortgages cover it. My hopes are gone. This is no more a land of liberty, of right, of equal taxation. I am weary of life—I shall soon die—I have no home for little ones, and nothing to leave them but eternal taxation.

Their labor is for your good, not for their own benefit.

Take these children; take all the children of America. Kill them, hold them in bondage, make them your slaves. They will wait on you, your negroes, your Congressmen, clergy, or pampered sons, but I can't help it.

I leave them with you that they may look upon their robber—on the murderer of their father. I must go to the plow, the hoe, the spade, the axe, the pick, the farm, the work bench, the hammer, the trowel, the forest, the loom—anywhere and everywhere, and toil early and late to buy you wines and luxuries to support you in idleness; to protect you in your swindles. I must now go to work and slave that you may rest and live. I will go and wear out my life to support you in idleness till the day which is dawning comes, which will bring relief in Equal Taxation.

Ah-ha-ha-ha-ha-ha! That makes you tremble! Then I will repeat it, Equal Taxation.

It is good to see your cheek pale, and to see you clutch for your bonds!

I have seen you so before.

It was when you begged me to fight for you!

When you fooled me!

When you lied to me!

When you whined and begged me to go to war, and let you look out for my interests.

It was when you trembled and shook like an aspen leaf, lest the draft would snatch you away from the place where you could rob and steal.

When I fought for your interests and my interests alike. You looked only for your own interests. You played it well, you controlled legislation nicely.

And now, I'll look after my own interests. All you worked for during the war was to make money. That was your great aim. Now, you are again in danger, you tremble, and no one will help you. Does that little boy look as if he would be a willing slave or the tool his father and grandfather have been?

He will look out for his interests; I will look out for my interests, and as the object of government as Jacobins manage it, is to make money, I'll follow suit and seek relief from your great Bondholding swindlers, in Equal Taxation.

MAKE YOUR OWN PLEASURE.

There was a large and pleasant nursery, fitted up with everything likely to make a little boy or girl happy. On one side were shelves stored with books of such various kinds that they would suit every humor you might happen to be in; stories and tales, histories and travels, books for Sunday and books for Monday. Underneath, on a large table was a pile of picture books; and more attractive still, three beautiful ships, with sails, and rigging, and little cannon all complete, as if they were real vessels, and so constucted that you could take them for a make-believe sail along the passage, when you could not put them on the pond out of doors. On the other side of the room was a rocking horse, and in the middle were two ropes, fastened by hooks to the ceiling, by means of which you might swing, or twist yourself about into some of the strange attitudes which little children delight in.

But the owner of these pleasant things did not seem any the better for them; on the contrary, he was standing at the window, pressing his nose against the pane as if he was not thinking about them at all. A long yawn made nurse look up from her work. "Why don't you get something to do, Master Henry?" she asked.

"I can't" replied the child, "for there is nothing for me to do."

"Well, did I ever hear the like of that?" cried Nurse. "Why there's the swing, and the rocking-horse, besides heaps of puzzles in the cupboard."

"I don't want them," said Master Henry: "I'm tired of them all, I want to go out."

"Very likely, sir, in this drizzling rain: spoil your clothes, and catch your death of cold into the bargain. Other young gentlemen would be satisfied at home with all these playthings."

"I don't care about other young gentlemen; I know I can never do anything I want to do."

"Oh, Master Henry, for shame; when there's everything got for you, and everything done for you, and you ought to be the happiest little boy alive."

We do not wonder that Nurse should be shocked, but she was wrong there, for there was no ought in the case. Nobody ever is or can be happy, although he may have everything to make him so, unless his own mind is in a state to be pleased and to be happy. Henry was a spoiled child—his mind in consequence was restless and discontented; and when we have those feelings within us, they put everything wrong outside us. It is quite impossible, then, for outward circumstances to please us—it is like having a mist before our eyes, so that we cannot see the sunshine and the pleasant things of life.

Just outside of the garden wall of the house where Henry lived, a different scene was going on. Some large trees had been cut down, and were lying by the roadside; some carpenters had left a plank there too, and Tim and Bob, the gardener's boys, came home from the village school; the prospect it held out of a see-saw was much too inviting to be resisted. So the plank was hoisted over one of the trunks and in a minute the two boys were going up and down to their heart's content.

"I say, Tim, is'nt it famous?"

"Glorious!" shouted Tim, in reply, as his turn came to go up; and their sister, who had come out of the cottage to look on, clapped her hands in company. True, it looked as if it would rain, but the prospect of it did not spoil their fun a bit.

Yet these children were very poor, their clothes were coarse and threadbare, and they did not always get quite enough to eat; how was it they could be so happy?

I will tell you. It is because they had contented spirits, and because they were making their own pleasures. Children who contrive their own plays are generally happier than those who have everything ready made to their hands; because—and it is the same with men and women too—what we find out for ourselves gives us more pleasure than what is done for us by others.

Have you not often noticed how some people go about getting something pleasant out of everything; while others, do what we will for them, never seem satisfied? There is no doubt that God gives this happy disposition to some more than others naturally, but all may attain to some degree of it by trying, and with His gracious help. It is often very hard work for grown up people to learn it, but to you it is easy; and the habbit once gained, you will find life all the brighter for being able to turn small things to account, and make, as it were, sunshine for yourself.

Our blessed Saviour says, "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he posesseth;" and one meaning of the words is, that great possessions can never of themselves give happiness. Our real, true life we carry with us in our own hearts. We must have peace there, peace with God, peace with ourselves—this is life. Then if we have outward blessings we shall enjoy them indeed; but if not, God can and will make a little enough for our happiness.

A CURIOUS HISTORICAL FACT.

A Sea Which Dried Up and Reappeared after a Lapse of 1,200 Years.

A curious question was discussed at a recent meeting of the British Royal Geographical society. Sir Henry Rawlinson expressed the opinion that the sea of Aral—a body of water having an area of 23,000 square miles, or three times the size of Massachusetts—had no existence in the period between 600 years before Christ and 600 years after, and the rivers Oxus and Jaxaries, now flowing into it, both flowed into the Caspian seas. He said: "The sea first comes into notice in the seventh century, and those two rivers are spoken of for several hundred years as emptying into it.—Another change seems to have occurred between 1300 and 1500, and the rivers again flowed into the Caspian sea; but since the late date they slowly changed their channels until they found an outlet in the sea of Aral." This theory was combated by Sir Roderick Murchison, the geologist, who affirmed that the mere absence of allusion to the sea of Aral was no proof of its non-existence, and cited the geological evidence that whatever changes the sea had undergone must have occurred long before the birth of history or tradition. Sir Henry Rawlinson, in reply, said that evidence exists in the writing of the 14th and 15th centuries that a highway of travel from Europe to Asia passed directly over the region now covered by the waters of the Aral. His opponent admitted that such evidence would be conclusive. Here the debate ended, with the understanding that Sir Henry is to collect and publish the proofs of his assertion.

TEACH THE WOMEN TO SAVE.—There's the secret! A saving woman at the head of a family is the very best saving bank yet established—one who receives deposits daily and hourly with no costly machinery to manage it. The idea of saving is a pleasant one, and if the women would imbibe it at once, they would cultivate and adhere to it, and thus when they were not aware of it, would be laying the foundation of a competent security in a stormy time, and shelter in a rainy day. The woman who sees to her own house, has a large field to save in. The best way to make her comprehend it is to keep an account of all current expenses.—Probably not one woman in ten has an idea of how much are the expenditures of herself and family. Where from one to two thousand dollars are expended annually, there is a chance to save something if the effort is only made. Let the housewife take the idea, act upon it, and she will save many dollars, perhaps hundreds, where before she thought it impossible.

ALWAYS BEAUTIFUL.—At a festival party of old and young, the question was asked, which season of life is the most happy? After being freely discussed by the guests, it was referred for answer to the host, upon whom was the burden of four score years. He asked if they had noticed a grove of trees before the dwelling, and said:—When the spring comes and in the soft air the buds are breaking on the trees and they are covered with blossoms, I think, how beautiful is spring! And when the summer comes, and covers the trees with its foliage, and singing birds are all among the branches, I think, how beautiful is summer! When autumn loads them with golden fruit, and their leaves bear the gorgeous tint of frost, I think, how beautiful is autumn! And when it is sere winter, and there is neither foliage nor fruit, I look up, and through the leafless branches as I never could until now, I see the stars shine through.

MONSTROUS!

The hideous features of Congressional Reconstruction, are, at last, being unveiled. It is now certain that eleven States of this Union are placed under the absolute domination of the blacks. These are Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, Louisiana, and Texas. In these States there are ten millions of whites, and about four millions of blacks. The Reconstruction Acts disfranchise at least three-fourths of the whites, whilst they enfranchise all the blacks. Thus four hundred millions of blacks are permitted, nay compelled, by the Radical party to rule more than twice their number of whites. This, in itself, is horrible enough. This alone challenges the condemnation of every thinking mind, and stirs with indignation every patriotic heart. Nor is the monstrosity of this fact lessened by the reflection that an immense standing army, maintained at an estimated cost of two hundred millions of dollars, annually, to the people of the United States, is the engine with which this diabolical scheme is enforced. But there is another consideration in connection with this subject, which increases and intensifies the disgust and indignation at this Radical plot which are now uppermost in the breasts of the Northern people. It is this: Four hundred millions of Negroes, ignorant, degraded, semi-barbarous, not only rule ten millions of whites in the South, but are to overbalance, by representation in Congress, twelve millions of white people in the North. To illustrate: The eleven States placed under Negro control, will have 60 Representatives and 22 Senators in Congress. New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, with a population of upwards of twelve millions of whites, will have 64 Representatives and 6 Senators in Congress. Thus, the twelve millions of whites in New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio, will be out-voted in the National Legislature, by the four hundred millions of blacks in the South! We mistake nothing in making these assertions. Figures will not lie. Let the reader turn to the census tables and make the calculation for himself. Finding our statements to be true, if he be a "Republican," what does he propose to do? Will he continue his allegiance to a political organization which has established this monstrous engine of political power and now seeks to fasten it upon the country forever? Will he cling to a party which thus aims to crush out the practical good sense and political virtue of the Northern people, by overbalancing their power in the government with the votes of brutish Negroes? It cannot be. Party ties were never so strong that they could bind men to measures at which their better nature revolts. Prejudice and pride and fear cannot restrain intelligent American freemen from breaking the shackles of party and rushing forward to the rescue of their country, even if it be in the company of former political opponents. Oh! men of the North! Free Men! White men! Do you not see the black storm that is gathering around you? Be ye prepared, for even now the red lightning plays along the sky, and the approaching thunder mutters in the distance. Let the ark of the Constitution be made strong, for it must outride fierce gales and rough seas, ere it land once more upon the Ararat of safety.

THE BLACK ART IN POLITICS.

By the disfranchisement of three-fourths of the white men of the South, and the enfranchisement of the emancipated slaves, the Radicals hope to elect the next President. They fear the loss of the Middle States, most of the Western States, the Pacific States, the "Border States," and a good portion of New England. Hence their black Reconstruction scheme. So long as the Southern States could not be controlled in their interest, through the black vote, they affected to regard them out of the Union. So soon as they can manage those States, through negro voters, they will pronounce them in the Union. This may be fairly styled the black art in politics. It is the miserable thimble-rigging of desperate political jugglers. With them the Union is the Little Joker. "Now you see it, and now you don't see it." But some of the people who have attended the Radical show, and paid dearly for a back seat in the pit, are beginning to be "among the missing."

THE Radicals are anxious to repeat the experiment tried by the Whigs in 1852, when Gen. Scott was nominated on the "Hasty Plate of Soup" Platform. They want to nominate Gen. Grant on a Negro Suffrage Platform.

THAD. ON THE RAMPAGE.

We call attention to a letter of Thad. Stevens, written recently to one Pfeiffer, published in another column. Thad. says that Negro Suffrage must be enforced everywhere; that suffrage is an inalienable right, and, therefore, all men are entitled to its exercise, and no man can be deprived of it. If this be so, how comes it, then, that 700,000 white men are at this moment denied this inalienable right? How comes it that 25,000 white men are not permitted to exercise it in Pennsylvania, under the plea that they are alleged to be "deserters?" If this right be inalienable, how could the white people of the South have parted with it? Mr. Stevens says that since the amendment of the Constitution proposed last year, has been adopted, Congress has the power to legislate for the regulation of Suffrage in the States. But that amendment has not been adopted, as Mr. Stevens very well knows. However, as he informed us on another occasion, Congress acts outside of the Constitution, and we presume it makes but little difference whether the amendment was adopted or not. We hope every Republican in this neck of the woods, will read this last sermon from the superannuated apostle of Radicalism, and learn whither he is leading them.

HOW ABOUT THE TARIFF?

Radical Reconstruction will give the eleven Southern States, controlled by Negro votes, 60 Representatives and 22 Senators in the next Congress. Under the next apportionment, which will be made immediately after the census of 1870, those States will add at least 30 to the number of their Representatives, for, then, all the negroes will be counted, whereas, heretofore but three fifths of them were counted. Now, the interests of the South, of the Southern blacks, particularly, demand low tariffs, in fact, free trade. A tariff on iron and coal, will be the last measure in the world, which any of their representatives will support. On the other hand, they will oppose it to the bitter end. Will the "Republicans" who pretend to be the "tariff men" par excellence, please explain how Radical Reconstruction can fail to injure Pennsylvania interests?

REMEMBER!

We remind the people that the Radicals, prior to the late election, declared most solemnly that if Judge Sharswood would be elected, "greenbacks" would be abolished, government bonds would become worthless, and that the Maryland militia would invade Pennsylvania. Sharswood has been elected. Gold is lower than it was, "greenbacks," consequently, better, bonds worth as much as ever, and nothing has been seen or heard of the Maryland militia. Those who were fooled by these ridiculous Radical tricks, will, perhaps, remember these things and not be quite so credulous next time. When the tricksters of that party, hammer their Chinese gongs, in future, some people will, in all probability, be less easily alarmed.

THE Radical party relies for success, mainly upon the lately emancipated slaves of the South. What must be the condition of a political organization, which can succeed only through the help of several millions of ignorant, debased and semi-barbarous ex-slaves?

THE election is over, and nothing more is heard about "mismanagement," "extravagance" and "corruption," at the Poor House, and in the Board of Commissioners. "All talk and no cider," will sometimes do well enough for electioneering purposes, but didn't come to much this year.

TWENTY-FIVE negroes have been elected members of the Virginia Convention, which is to frame a new form of government for that State. What do "Republicans" hereabouts think of this?

"REPUBLICAN!" Your associates in your party organization, are Sambo, Cuffee and Squash, late of the tobacco, cotton and rice-fields of the South. How do you like your company?

BROWNLOW has beeen elected U. S. Senator from Tennessee. As this is a Radical victory, will not the Inquirer "bring out its gun?"

GEN. POPE, finding that he could not carry the "Convention" in Georgia, after two days' voting, continued the election for five days. This enabled him to get the needed re-enforcements. What do you think of it?

THE Curtin men of this State, are trying to head off Cameron by tying to Grant. Simon will show them a trick or two, before that game is played out.

FOR the best possible commentary on Radical Reconstruction, see Georgia election returns.

THADDEUS STEVENS' LAST LETTER.

Negro Suffrage to be Enforced by Congress.

Below will be found the important part of a letter written by Thaddeus Stevens to M. D. G. Pfeiffer, a German scholar, who is said to have been in the habit of frequently consulting Mr. Stevens on public affairs for many years:

Whatever construction shall be given to the Constitution in its present condition by this Congress, and those nearest the great events which have modified it, will be likely to be accepted, through future time, as its true meaning. It is important, therefore, that the most beneficent interpretation should be given to it, and that it should be most liberally construed, so as to secure all human rights.

In the changed condition of our country and of that instrument, which, while it, as to the old States, may not be perverted, is not so inflexible as to be incapable of yielding to the changing necessities of humanity.

Before the constitution was amended, I could not agree with some of my learned friends that Congress could intermeddle with State laws relative to the elective franchise in the United States. The circumstances of slavery seemed, while it was submitted to, to prevent it. After the amendment abolishing slavery I still doubted, and proposed a constitutional remedy, on the 5th day of December 1865, in the following words: "All national * * * laws shall be equally applicable to every citizen, and no discrimination shall be made on account of race or color." Since the adoption of the fourteenth amendment, however, I have no doubt of our full power to regulate the elective franchise, so far as it regards the whole nation, in every State of the Union, which, when tried, I hope will be so formed as to be benificial to the nation, just to every citizen, and carry out the great design of the framers of the Government, according to their views expressed in the Declaration of Independence.

The lawgivers of America are now as free to act as Samson when the fire had touched the flax. May they never again be beguiled by any conservative Delilah—suffer their locks to be shorn, and their limbs to be bound by the withes of a twisted Constitution. The laws which were intended to be universal, the principles which were intended to govern the whole American nationality, must now be made to cover and control its whole national action throughout this grand empire. Towns, corporations, and municipalities may be allowed their separate organization not inconsistent therewith, but must not incorporate any principles in conflict with those great rights, privileges, and immunities.

What are those rights, privileges and immunities? Without excluding others, three are specifically enumerated: Life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.—These are universal and inalienable. It follows that everything necessary for their establishment and defence is within those rights.

You grant a lot or easement in the midst of your estate, you thereby grant the right of way to it by ingress and egress.

Disarm a community, and you rob them of the means of defending life.—Take away their weapons of defence, and you take away the inalienable right of defending liberty. This brings us now directly to the argument by which we prove that the elective franchise is a RIGHT of the Declaration, and not merely a privilege, and is one of the rights and immunities pronounced by that instrument to be "inalienable." If, as our fathers declared, "all just government is derived from the assent of the governed;" if in Federal republics, that assent can be ascertained and established only through the ballot, it follows that to take away the means of communication, is to take away from the citizen his great weapon of defence and reduce him to helpless bondage. It deprives him of an inalienable right. This clearly proves that the elective franchise ranks with "life" and "liberty" in its sacred inalienable character.

But while the Declaration clearly proves what the intention then was, the action of the convention in framing the Constitution of the United States, it seemed to me, bartered away, for the time being, some of those inalienable rights, and instigated by the hellish institution of slavery, suspended one of the muniments of liberty. Having thus shown that the elective franchise is one of the inalienable rights of man, without which his liberty cannot be defended, and that it was suspended by the arbitrary Constitution of 1789, let us see if that suspension has been removed, so as to leave our hands unrestrained in restoring its full vigor, while still acting under the Constitution. That right appertains to every citizen. But while this suspension existed, the natural love of despotism induced communities to hold that each State might fix the qualifications, rights, and deprivations of its own citizens.

The fourteenth amendment, now so happily adopted, settles the whole question, and places every American citizen on a perfect equality of rights, so far as merely national rights and questions are concerned. It declares that "all persons born, or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the State wherein they reside. No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges and immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any person be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law; nor deny any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

If by the amended Constitution every American citizen is entitled to equal privileges with every other American citizen; and if every American citizen in any one of the States should be found entitled to impartial suffrage with every other American citizen in any State, then it follows as an individual conclusion that suffrage throughout this nation is impartial and universal, so far as every human being without regard to race or color shall be found concerned, and so far as it affects the whole nation.

Can he who swears to support the Constitution in all its parts refuse to aid in carrying this into effect without clear direct perjury? a worse perjury than would have been committed by those who, under the old Constitution, could not agree to that construction, and thus refused their aid to their fellow-men.

What a grand compulsion have these despots, rebels, and murderers finally forced upon the American Republic by their impatient, rash, and bloody acts! How they have aided the just men of the nation in producing this great good! It were well if they could claim some merit as a compensation for so great a crime. But if evil must come into the world, "but woe unto him through whom it cometh," I fear that if good does come into the world through compulsion, no merit will be attributed to the unwilling actors. Let no man now, then, who belongs to this great Government, dare to stand up in the face of high heaven and longer deny to God's immortal beings the high, the inalienable, the God-granted rights which his immortal Father gave them. Let no one in the past or in any future age attempt to palliate his offence, either before an earthly tribunal which is to decide between God's creatures, or who is to plead his cause at the bar of a higher tribunal, venture to insult Divine Justice by longer pleading his inability to excute that justice.

We must remember that most of us are separated from the dread tribunal occupied by a Judge who cannot be deceived by the narrowest isthmus that ever divided time from eternity.

If every citizen of any State is entitled to all the inalienable rights, privileges, and immunities of this Government, and if one of those inalienable rights is the right to cast his ballot for every man who is to take part in the government, show me the man who is so impudent as to deny that suffrage by the ballot is due to every being within this realm to whom God has given immortality. He must be an impudent citizen, and ought never to profess to believe in the existence of a Deity; for that a world could be created and governed without an overruling cause, is more feasible than such a proposition.

THE ELECTION FARCE IN GEORGIA.

SAVANNAH, Oct. 29.—The election today passed off quietly. Many negroes from the interior of this State, and some from South Carolina, were in the city. The city vote is 602 and the county vote 440. About 250 votes were rejected. All with the exception of three or four were negroes, and all were votes for the Convention and for the Radical ticket. Only one white vote was cast. 174 city voters and 80 from the county cannot be found on the registry books, having forgotten the names under which they took the oath. The Boston Mulatto-Bradley ticket is ahead.

MACON, October 29.—The election today passed off very quietly. No whites voted and the freedmen had it all their own way. 468 votes were polled in the city and 137 in the county.

COLUMBUS, Oct. 29.—The election today passed off quiedly. No disturbance occurred, and but little interest was manifested. 658 votes were polled, 400 in the county, and 258 in the city, only a few white Radicals voting. The registered votes for the county and city are about 3,000. The Conservatives took no part in the election.

AUGUSTA, Oct. 29.—Returns from all parts of the State indicate that the Conservatives took no part in the election, which passed off quietly. Nearly all the votes cast were for the Convention. 1,785 votes were polled here; 1,073 in the city, and 712 in the county; all for the Convention. The following returns have been received from the interior:

Rome polled 700 votes, nearly all for the Convention, scarcely any whites voting.

In Marietta 305 votes were polled, mostly by freedmen, nearly all for the Convention.

Lagrange polled about 500 negro and one white vote, all for the Convention. Excepting for city and county officers, no respectable white men are connected with the affair.

Griffin polled 675 votes, of which 550 were for the Convention. 175 to 200 whites voted.

Fort Gaines, Clay county, polled 300 votes, all for the Convention. No white man appeared or cast a ballot.

Americus polled 500 or 600 votes, all by colored people.

In Albany, 399 negroes and one white man voted, the latter voting for himself. All these votes were for the Convention. The whites kept away from the polls altogether.

ATLANTA, October 29.—The vote of Atlanta on the first day of voting was 614. The result is unknown. Fulton County gives 154 for the Convention and 20 against it. The city vote has not been counted.

The Election---The Polls Open till Saturday---The Returns.

ATLANTA, Ga., October 30.—General Pope has ordered the Polls to be kept open in Georgia until Saturday evening, it having been ascertained that the time allotted was not sufficient to permit a full vote to be given.

The total vote of Atlanta and Fulton counties for two days, is 1,810, four-fifths, at least, for a Convention and the Union Reconstruction ticket.

SAVANNAH, Ga., October 30.—The election passed off quietly. The total vote, so far as heard from, is 2,500.—There was only one white voter to-day, making a total of two whites. The negroes have it all their own way, as the whites do not go near the polls. A new poll is to be opened to-morrow for the Radical ticket. Nearly all of the vote cast is for the Radical ticket. General Pope extends the election for two days.

COLUMBUS, Ga., October 30.—The result of two days election is 1,217 voters, all for the Convention. Only 25 whites voted. The number of registrations in the county is 2,901; 1,150 whites, and, 1,769 blacks.

MACON, Ga., October 30.—The election to-day was remarkably quiet, no whites participating up to six o'clock this afternoon. Fourteen hundred and sixty votes were polled, three of which were not negroes.

AUGUSTA, October 30.—General Pope has issued orders to the Registration Boards to keep the polls open until 6 o'clock P. M. (Saturday), an extension of two days.

The returns of the first and second days indicate that the Convention would be defeated, had not the time been extended. It is not now regarded as certain.

The Conservatives generally throughout the State have taken no part in the election, which passed off quietly. The city and county vote to-day is 839; for two days 2,615. Lagrange County, the vote for two days, is about 1,200; only four whites have voted. Griffin County, 263 votes were polled to day, very few whites voting.

THE BALTIMORE ELECTION.

Another Glorious Democratic Victory!

The municipal and judicial election in the city of Baltimore took place on Wednesday last, and resulted in a glorious, sweeping Democratic victory. The rule of the "plug uglies," and the wors one of the Radical bayonets, have ceased, and the people of that downtrodden city proclaim in thunder tones their detestation and abhorrence of Radical measures, which have well nigh ruined the country. A few more such victories through-out the country and the reign of Radicalism will forever be at an end. The good news is thus briefly told:

BALTIMORE, Oct. 23.—The municipal and judicial election passed off very quietly to day. The entire Democratic ticket for Mayor, both branches of City Councils, and Judges, was elcted. The vote for Mayor is as follows:

Robert T. Banks, Democrat,	18,399
Andrew W. Dennison, Radical,	4,931
Majority,	13,468

The vote for Judges of the Court of Appeals to-day was as follows:

Bartol, Democrat. 18,500; Stockbridge, Republican, 4,795. Bartol's majority, 13, 705.

For Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Parkin Scott, Democrat, 18,217: John R. Kenley, Republican, 4,849. Scott's majority, 13,372.

The Democratic majorities for Associate Judge are all over 13,000. The largest Republican vote was for John C. King, for Associate Judge, 4,926.

Radical Programme of Territorial Absorption--Grant Jubilant over the Ohio and Pennsylvania Elections--The Forty-First Congress.

WASHIGTON, October 30, 1867.

The fact has for a year past been notorious here that the Radical program embraced for the future the incorporation of Hayti into the "Union," the absorption of Cuba by invasion of negro fillibusters, and the settlement of the "Alabama claims" by the purchase of Jamaica from England. It is understood that a proposition for annexing Hayti was made to Mr. Sumner, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, last winter, by the Diplomatic agent of that Government, but at the instance of Republican politicians of more prudent instincts, the project was laid aside untill after the result of the next Presidential election. I scarcely believe that the visit of Mr. Seward to San Domingo was intended to be in furtherance of this programme. On the contrary, I have reason to believe that the Conservative Secretary rather favored a postponement, at least for the present. The Radical calculation is that upon a renewal of their lease of power of four more years under the very moderate and "conservative" administration of General Grant, that three Republican States may be carved out of Hayti, five out of Cuba and two out of Jamaica, to say nothing of other absorptions, which with the ten Southern negro States, Massachusetts, Vermont, Nebraska and Colorado, will form an available working Congressional majority, at least in the Senate. These facts, although well known, have not heretofore been susceptible of that sort of proof upon which alone a careful correspondent would promulge them. But evidence of undoubted character is daily accumulating, among which is the following authentic expose of Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, in a very recent letter:

"Before the time for action shall arrive, Cuba, the most fertile and productive spot of its size, except perhaps the Delta of the Nile, will have become so saturated and ripe with the bursting principle of freedom and together with St. Domingo, Hayti, Jamaica, and their cognate races will be ready to leap to arms and defend their appropriate dominions, if such aid should be needed in the cause of freedom, and if they shall not then have been added to our own dominion by our enterprising foreign Secretary."

Dr. Bard, the editor of the Atlanta New Era, whose recent exposition of General Grant's political views has been referred to, left town yesterday hurriedly. He was fairly run down by the sensational paragraphists. Besides, General Dent, the next in military command here to the General himself, is understood to have been after him with a big stick. The General's quarters have since been doubly guarded, and I doubt if another word can be got out of him for a week. I may say, however, that it is susceptible of proof under oath, that General Grant did express in emphatic terms his gratification at the result of the recent elections in Pennsylvania and Ohio, but it was looked upon at the time as simply an exultation that thereby his nomination by the Radicals was secured beyond peradventure.

Speculation is rife respecting the character of the Forty-first Congress. It is hoped in observant circles that a majority of Conservative Democrats will be secured. "But," says a judicious correspondent of a Southern paper, "if the Radicals are to be reinforced by a black army, there will be no chance for this. Leaving out the ten proscribed States, it is thought possible to secure a Conservative majority in the next House of Representatives, and also a Conservative President.—Could this be done—the South standing aside—the Congressional reconstruction plan would fall dead. The Radicals would keep the Senate, and the acts could not be repealed; but the House could refuse appropriations to carry them into effect, and, further, could admit the representatives of white citizens of the South."

—In eleven of the principal cities and towns of Georgia there were 7,979 negro votes polled, and only 107 white votes. In Albany, Americus, Augusta, Fort Gaines, Macon, Marietta and Rome, not a white vote was cast, and in Savannah and Lagrange only one each. What a farce! What a shame upon the Radical leaders.

—The Radical members of the Impeachment Committee are anxiously informing the public that they have not expressed any opinion upon the subject. In other words they are preparing to drop the matter, and want the "narrowminded blockheads" to quit agitating that impracticable measure.

—Rachel and Mary Jones, the two maiden ladies of Philadelphia, who were lately arrested upon a charge of killing a little girl named Annie Richards, with a poisoned peach, were discharged upon a habeas corpus, the other day, there being no evidence against them.

—A Philadelphia Radical organ says the Democracy of Baltimone refused to appoint "Plug Uglies" to office, and that they threaten to vote the Radical ticket. Very well. They could't gravitate to a plug uglier party, and feel more at home.

—A Radical organ declares that the Radical New York State Senator Humphrey, ought to be prosecuted for selling himself for the paltry sum of $500—thus improperly depressing the market for Assemblymen.

—The following is given as the vote of Virginia: Whites, 75,924; blacks, 93,656. For the Convention, 14,845 whites; 92,507 blacks. Against the Convention, 61,249 whites; 638 blacks.

—The Chinese Government has ordered specimens of our fractional currency. Can it be that "the Brother of the Sun and Moon" has become afflicted with a collecting mania?

—Dr. Oliver Wendell Homes is in Montreal, where he will tarry until he secures a British copyright for his "Guardian Angel" and other works.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SCHENCK'S SEAWEED TONIC.—This medicine, invented by Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, is intended to dissolve the food and make it into chyle, the first process of digestion. By cleansing the stomach with Schenck's Mandrake Pills, the Tonic soon restores the appetite, and food that could not be eaten before using it will be easily digested.

Consumption cannot be cured by Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup unless the stomach and liver is made healthy and the appetite restored, hence the Tonic and Pills are required in nearly every case of consumption. A half dozen bottles of the SEAWEED TONIC, and three or four boxes of the MANDRAKE PILLS will cure any ordinary case of dyspepsia.

Dr. Schenck makes professional visits in New York, Boston, and at his principal office in Philadelphia every week. See daily papers of each place, or his pamphlet on consumption, for his days of visitation.

Please observe, when purchasing, that the two likenesses of the Doctor, one when in the last stage of consumption, and the other as he now is, in perfect health, are on the Government stamp

MASS MEETING!

Democratic Jubilee!

There will be a Mass Meeting of the Democrats and Conservatives of Bedford county, at the Court House, on MONDAY NIGHT, NOVEMBER 18th (Court week) to celebrate the victories achieved at the recent elections. A number of addresses will be delivered upon the occasion. Let the people turn out and hear the state of the country discussed, so that they may make up an honest judgment in regard to their political duty in the future.

GEO. MARDORFF,
Chairman Dem. Co. Com.
W. C. SCHAEFFER, Sec'y.

THE NEED OF THE DEMOCRACY.—One thing is now certain, to wit: Radicalism must, in future, rely upon prejudice and ignorance for success. It is equally certain that Democracy must look to the intelligence and reason of the people for aid and recuperation of strength. Radicalism manipulates the unlettered and half-civilized ex-slaves of the South, by appeals to their cupidity and base passions, and thus hopes to maintain its power. But Democracy could not, if it would, resort to such dastard means. It must convince the thinking, cool-headed, patriotic people of the North, and by so doing it alone can succeed. How is this to be done? We answer, mainly through the influence of the press. Democratic newspapers are the surest and most effective engines that can be used in the work of the political regeneration of the people. Could every Republican in Bedford county, read a Democratic newspaper, weekly, for one year, there would be 1000 Democratic majority in the county, at the succeeding election. The people need only to see and know the truth in regard to the doings of Radicalism, to cause them to turn their backs upon it. Hence, we would urge upon the leading Democrats of the different districts of this county, to canvass actively for subscribers to the GAZETTE. Let the work commence now. Campaign papers are not of near so great service, as regular issues. In every township some Democrat could make himself useful to the cause, by inducing his neighbor to subscribe for his county paper. Of course this will benefit the publishers, but it will be of far greater advantage to the party. Now, friends, "put your shoulders to the wheel," and let your motto for the next three months be, "Circulate the GAZETTE."

CLOSE OF THE NORMAL SCHOOL.—The session of the Bedford County Normal School, has closed, and we cannot permit the opportunity to pass, without expressing our conviction that the "institution" has proved a decided success. The young ladies and gentlemen in attendance, exhibited more than ordinary ability, and we are glad to say that this year Bedford county will furnish more and better teachers than she has at any previous period. Mr. H. W. Fisher, the County Superintendent of Common Schools, deserves great credit for his assiduous attention to the duties of his office, and for the careful selection of assistants who understand their business and make thorough performance of their work. On our outside will be found a report of the proceedings of the Bedford County Teachers' Association. This society has already produced good results, and deserves the encouragement of all who are interested in the progress of our schools. Teaching is just as much a profession, as Law or Medicine, and should, therefore, be studied with equal care. Hence, the usefulness of Teachers' Institutes, and other instrumentalities to educate the Teacher in his calling.

BEDFORD UNION SCHOOL.—The common schools of this borough, will open on Monday, next, 11th inst. The board of Directors have appointed Mr. John M. Reynolds, Principal, with the following named persons as assistants: Samuel J. Jordan, Samuel D. Middleton, Miss Mary Holderbaum, Miss Jennie Smith, Miss M. J. O'Conor. These appointments are said to give general satisfaction. John Cessna, Esq., was elected Director, last Spring, upon the hobby that no more female teachers should be employed. He assured his supporters that if he would be elected, he would see to it that none but males should teach. Those who swallowed the bait with which John angled for their votes, would like to have some explanation of the failure of his omnipotence to prevent ladies from getting schools. Some of them are even inquiring whether he made any effort at all to fulfil his promise.—Miss Amanda Sansom was appointed teacher of the colored school.

THE CELEBRATED MORNING GLORY GAS BURNER.—This stove requires to be filled with coal, once in twenty-four hours, this is all the attention it requires as it is a Self-Feeder, and keeps fire all the time. BALTIMORE GAS BURNING FIRE-BOARD STOVE. HEATERS for Churches, Schools and Dwellings.—Also second hand stoves suitable for Churches and School-Houses, will be sold low. Call at B. M. Blymyer & Co's Store, No. 1 Stone Row.—nov8w3

BEDFORD CLASSICAL SCHOOL.—This school, which was formerly kept by the Rev. John Lyon, re-opened on Monday, under the Principalship of Mr. Frederick Woods who comes to our town highly recommended as a teacher. The School is for both sexes and instruction will be given in the ordinary English branches, together with the usual classical course in Latin, Greek and Mathematics, to prepare Students for College. The French, German, Italian and Spanish languages will also be taught when required. Terms are moderate and every effort will be put forth to make this a first class school. Pupils from a distance can find board in town on reasonable terms.

ENCOUNTER WITH BEARS.—On Thursday last, Porter M. Skinner and David Cowan were out on the mountain, a few miles from Fannettsburg, this county, looking after cattle, when they discovered three bears on one tree. The bears attempted to escape, and as the party had neither guns or dogs, were prevented from doing so by the free use of clubs and stones. One of the party then stood sentinel, while the other went some two miles for a gun. The first one shot at was wounded and fell to the ground, but not so badly hurt but that he was able to show fight. After a severe encounter, however, they succeeded in dispatching him with their clubs. The second one they shot dead, while the third one made his escape. The gentlemen were uninjured. This is altogether the tallest bear hunt of the season. Bears appear to be unusually plenty on the North Mountain this season. Several have been captured in the neighborhood of McConnellsburg.—Franklin Repository.

THE Good work undertaken by the Washington Library Company of Philadelphia, for the endowment of the Riverside Institute as a National Home and College for the orphans of those soldiers who were fed at the Noble National Refreshment Saloon of that city, goes bravely on. That their noble object may be most surely accomplished, they have issued five series of fine steel-plate engravings, one of which is given with every share of stock sold, at prices much below their retail value. In connection with this superb inducement, every shareholder is guaranteed a present in the great distribution of $300,000. Many of them are quite fortunes of themselves. We notice that one is worth as high as $40,000, another $20,000, another $18,000, one $10,000, one $50,000, two $25,000 each, and a large number ranging from $1000 to $50 each. Read advertisement.

ESTEY'S COTTAGE ORGANS are still ahead of all competitors and stand unrivalled in POWER, PURITY OF TONE and BRILLIANCY, and all other points which go to make a first-class instrument.
The "VOX HUMANA TREMOLO" is the greatest of all modern improvements on reed instruments. It CHARMS and SURPRISES all who hear it, by its wonderful resemblance to the HUMAN VOICE. Do not confound this with the common tremolo in use. It is entirely different, and far superior to any other.

The effect of your "Tremolo" is entirely new to me, and is certainly the best I ever heard.—GEO. W. MORGAN. [The first Organist of America.
No Tremolo has yet been invented that will in any degree compare with this for beauty of effect. In fact, it seems to me to be absolutely perfect.—WM. A. JOHNSON. Pipe Organ Builder.
Estey's Cottage Organs are without a superior for exceedingly quick articulation and round tone—the essential features in instruments of this class—GEO. JARDINE, Pipe Organ Builder.
The Cotttge Organ is the best of its class I ever saw, and the best adapted for church music of any in use.—C. HEINTZ, Organist, Findlay, O.
I am much pleased with the Cottage Organ which I purchased from you; it combines sweetness and power in an unusual degree, and is quite a favorite in our family circle.—BISHOP SIMPSON.
We know no organs of the class which possess so many valuable qualities.—INDEPENDENT.
For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for the church it has a power more organ-like than anything we have seen.—METHODIST.

1867.—"THE WORLD."—1867.
The attention of the public is invited to the claims of "The World" as one of the leading public journals of the country. It is the chief organ of the Democratic Party of the United States, and the foremost advocate of the immediate restoration of the Union. Its highest merits consists in its character as an enterprising and trustworthy newspaper.
The next year bids fair to be a more critical one in the history of our free institutions than even any eventful ones that have preceded it. The first requsite for an intelligent judgment of public affairs is a full and authentic account of facts as they transpire. These THE WORLD always aims to give with consciencious accuracy, and with equal fullness and fidelity, whether they make for or against its own views of public policy. Prompt activity in spreading before its readers every kind of news in which any part of the public takes an interst, is the first duty of a newspaper, and the facilities of THE WORLD for discharging this obligation are unsurpassed by those of any journal in the United States. Whatever else it may fail in, it certainly will not fail to furnish the news, nor to supply it with such promptitude, spirit, freshness, abundance, variety, accuracy and candor, that no class of readers can miss anything of interest which they wish to find. THE WORLD will publish documents and arguments prepared by political foes just as freely as those prepared by political friends; making its own comments on them, of course. but never suppressing or garbling them because they are calculated to damage its own party. Adverse arguments, which it cannot refute, it is content to leave to make their full impression. THE WORLD adopts this rule because it believes no other is honest; because it conceives that its first duty to its readers is to keep them thoroughly informed on every passing subject of importance. In politics, THE WORLD will continue to be the bold advocate of a Liberal, Progressive Democracy. The unflinching champion of Freedom, Justice, Order and Constitutional Rights. The inspiration of its politics is Freedom restrained by Justice; or, to speak more strictly, Freedom pure and simple, in the largest collective measure; the office of justice being merely to protect freedom from encroachments; Freedom of the individual citizen in his rights of thought, speech, religion and locomotion; in his Right to choose his own food and drink, in spite of meddlesome temperance laws; in his Right to make any money bargains he thinks proper, in spite of foolish usury laws; in his Right to buy and sell in all markets, domestic and foreign, in spite of unjust protective tariffs; in his Right to representation in the legislative bodies which tax him, in spite of unconstitutional exclusions; Freedom of collective citizens to assemble for discussion of grievances; Freedom of all local communities to manage their local affairs without central interference; Freedom in every section of the country from the arrogant and unconstitutional domination of other sections; this large and comprehensive idea of Freedom sums up the politics of THE WORLD, which will never be found wanting to this capital interest of the country and of the human race.
In its accurate Commercial Intelligence and careful, reliable market reports, THE WORLD will continue to maintain its present high reputation. A paper published in the commercial metropolis is naturally looked to for authentic information relating to trade, commerce and finance; and this being a feature in which the THE WORLD prides itself, it boldly challenges comparison with every journal in the metropolis.
EDITIONS.
The WEEKLY WORLD, a large quarto sheet, same size as Daily, is now printed throughout in large type, and has the largest circulation of any weekly journal published, save one. Its extraordinary success since its union with the New York ARGUS has justified the most liberal expenditures, which will make it unrivalled in interest and value to farmers. Published Wednesday.
1. Its Market Reports embrace the New York, Albany, Brighton and Cambridge Live Stock Markets; the New York Country Produce and General Produce Markets; special and valuable Hop Intelligence; a department of Agricultural Reading; all together composing an unrivalled handbook of current information for the Farmer, Live Stock or Produce Dealer, Country Merchant, &c.
